801		France 1920 (7th May) Paris to Timaru, New Zealand endorsed "Par Avion – Paris: Londres" & bearing early black on salmon "Par Avion" vignette etiquette. Franked on both sides by 33 x 10c for aggregate 3f30c (overpaid 5c for 3f25 rate), 2f of which was attributed to the Paris-London airmail service surcharge. This then departed London on 19th May on the P&O Kyber arriving in Sydney early June from where it was transferred to steamer bound for New Zealand. This is the earliest commercial international airmail service item to Australasia. It is in fact of far greater philatelic significance than the August 1920 cover carried by Parer & McIntosh claimed to be the first "ordinary" airmail letter to Australia (from Straits Settlements) which was franked at 4c for surface rate only & not carried by an official airmail service yet still realised $14,375 at a Melbourne auction in 2011. Some wear as to be expected but a scarce cover full of character. An excellent opportunity to obtain a lovely exhibition item. Ex Perry (plate 5)	$10,000

Antwerp Belgium red paid franking dated 18.11.74 with red "EXPRESS Spoedbestelling" h/s with neighbouring Antwerp 18.11.74 12.15 cds. Rosettenville Johannesburg b/s. Some faults as usual but scarce. Lufthansa Flight 540 was a scheduled commercial flight for Lufthansa operated with a Boeing 747-100, carrying 157 people (140 passengers and 17 crew members). The flight was operating the final segment of its Frankfurt–Nairobi–Johannesburg route. On 20 November 1974 it crashed and caught fire shortly past the runway on take-off. This was the first fatal accident and third hull loss of a Boeing 747. This was also the third fatal accident involving a wide-body aircraft, after Eastern Air Lines Flight 401 in 1972 and the crash of Turkish Airlines Flight 981 earlier in 1974. To date, it is also the deadliest plane crash to occur on Kenyan soil. There were 61 fatalities with the aircraft completely destroyed by fire. Investigation determined that the cause of the crash was a stall at low altitude precipitated by pilot error in not extending the leading-edge flaps for take-off. This procedure is now automated on 747's in current service. Recovered mail (mainly destined for South Africa) was forwarded on after receiving the bilingual English/Afrikaans cachet.
